

Et Cetera

DAVID A. BADER, an associate professor and regents' lecturer in the electrical and computer engineering department at UNM, has been elected chair of the IEEE Computer Society's technical committee on parallel processing.

BADER

The committee acts as an international forum to promote parallel processing research and education and participates in setting up international technical standards.